"Speak Up!: Responding to Everyday Bigotry"

What is the "Education as Disruption Virtual Intensive"?

The EAD Intensive is a one-day virtual event providing an opportunity to take advantage of the diversity education and bias prevention offerings available universitywide and beyond.

This year we have partnered with the Southern Poverty Law Center to host the Speak Up! Responding to Everyday Bigotry Workshop and continue to partner with the Diversity Education Network, a universitywide network of units engaged in equity, access, diversity, inclusion and justice capacity building.

Space is limited. Captioning will be available.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

Who should attend?

The Intensive is open to all members of the Rutgers community. We are encouraging faculty and staff to attend knowing that this is one of the few opportunities for faculty and staff to deepen their equity, diversity, and inclusion knowledge and grow your capacity to act on this knowledge.

What if I can only make it for part of the day?

Because space is limited, if you are unable to participate for the full day (9 am to 2 pm), we ask that you wait until March 7th to register to ensure that there is space for people who can attend for the full day.
