The 2022 Italian Election Results: Past, Present and Futures a Zoom Panel discussion

NOV. 9th 12PM

The September 2022 Italian General Election has led to the formation the most far-right government since Benito Mussolini, with the first woman prime minister at its helm--Giorgia Meloni. This event will feature three respected scholars discussing the who's, why's and what's of this consequential moment.

Moderator: Prof. Sadia Abbas, Director of the Rutgers Center for European Studies

Ruth Ben-Ghiat, Professor of History and Italian Studies at New York University. She is an MSNBC Opinion Columnist and commentator on CNN, MSNBC, and other media outlets

Alexander Stille, San Paolo Professor of Journalism at Columbia University , he contributes to The New York Times, La Repubblica, The New Yorker magazine, The New York Review of Books, The New York Times Magazine, among others

Vetri Nathan is Associate Professor of Italian and Mellon Associate Professor in Global Racial Justice at Rutgers University. His research focuses on questions related to global migrations, biopolitics, cinema and the environmental humanities.

Register in advance. Discussion is 12pm on November 9th, 2022.

https://rutgers.zoom.us/meeting/register/tJYqc-irrzMoGtKR5TI7snyqSLvAN_Z1hBXI

RUTGERS
Institute for the Study of Global Racial Justice

RUTGERS
School of Arts and Sciences
Center for European Studies
Department of Italian