

LITERATURE, CRITICAL THEORY, AND BLACK ECOLOGIES

Wednesday, April 12, 2023
5-7pm | Zoom Webinar

This virtual event will explore how Black writers--across literatures and in quotidian Black expressive cultures-- script, narrate, reimagine, theorize, and counter the order naturalizing Black vulnerability and ecocide as well as how these writers generate new epistemes for imagining a different order.

Hosted by: Dr. Dana Cypress (Colgate University), Dr. Justin Hosbey (University of California-Berkeley) and Dr. J.T. Roane (Rutgers ISGRJ Named Term Chair)

Featuring: Helen Ganiy, Dr. Randi Gill-Sadler, Dr. Carlyn Ferrari, Dr. Elleza Kelley, Dr. Christine Okoth, JP Sloan and Dr. Maurice Wallace.

REGISTER:

This event is sponsored by:

ISGRJ Black Ecologies Initiative; Black Lab: Experiments in Theoretical Black Studies (Rutgers) and the University of California, Berkeley College of Environmental Design